

VENDOR FORM

Please join us for The Fourth Annual Breast Health Awareness Conference on October 24, 2015, hosted by the Department of Surgery at the Rutgers New Jersey Medical School. Various specialists will be on hand to educate the community on "The Heterogeneity of Breast Cancer; i.e. not all breast cancers are the same." In layman's terms, "heterogeneity" means that not all breast cancers are the same and therefore, not all treatments will be the same.

Join us to hear from expert medical professionals and health educators who will present on the topic of heterogeneity. The departments and divisions represented will be Surgical Oncology, Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery, Breast Radiology, Radiation Oncology and Medical Oncology.

When: October 24, 2015, 8:30am to 2:00pm

Where: Rutgers New Jersey Medical School, 185 South Orange Avenue, Newark, NJ 07103, MSB B556
