

DISSERTATION EXAMINATION COMMITTEE

The Final (Dissertation) Examination Committee consists of a minimum of six members, including the members of the Thesis Advisory Committee (TAC). Readers are nominated by the TAC and approved by the Track Director. There must be at least two readers who have not been part of the TAC, and one of these must be from outside of the student's home department/institute. The Dissertation Examination Committee must also include at least one member from outside the Rutgers Biomedical Health Sciences Newark Campus, who can be a reader or a member of the TAC.
