

On Behalf of Dr. Maria Soto-Greene, Executive Vice Dean and
Dr. Sangeeta Lamba, Associate Dean of Education
NJMS GWIMS would like to invite you to attend an AAMC/FASEB Hosted Webinar

NAS Sexual Harassment of Women in Science

Monday, April, 22, 2019
Webinar from 1:00-2:00 PM ET
Facilitated Discussion from 2:00-2:30 PM ET
Location: NJMS Dean's Conference Room

The AAMC and the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology (FASEB) are hosting the sixth and final webinar in their 2018 National Academies reports webinar series. Study Director Frazier Benya, PhD, of the National Academies, will unpack the key findings of the report "Sexual Harassment of Women: Climate, Culture, and Consequences in Academic Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine," focusing on two essential recommendations: 1) addressing the most common form of sexual harassment - gender harassment and 2) moving beyond legal compliance to address culture and climate change. This webinar will also feature examples of institutional implementation.

To attend, please RSVP Yvette Holding-Ford at holdinys@njms.rutgers.edu by Thursday, April 18, 2019.