

Hispanic Center of Excellence Faculty Development: Tricks of the Academic Trade

Michaela Kiernan, Ph.D.

Senior Research Scientist
at the Stanford Prevention Research Center (SPRC) at the Stanford University School of Medicine.

SAVE THE DATE
November 3, 2014

Limited Space is Available
MSB B610 Lecture Hall

Writing Tricks of the Trade 10:00AM - 12:00PM

Exposes attendees to 6 pragmatic writing techniques to use for journal manuscripts and grants. During the interactive workshop, attendees have the opportunity to practice the techniques with in-class examples. Concise writing skills are critical given the shorter page limits for NIH R01s and R21s.

Editing in Motion 1:00PM - 3:00PM

Attendees will critique abstracts using the 6 techniques just learned. During the workshop, attendees sharpen their skills using the techniques on others' abstracts and, more challenging, on their own abstracts.

RSVP to Mercedes Padilla-Register, Hispanic Center of Excellence Office for Diversity and Community Engagement at mercedes.p.register@rutgers.edu or 973-972-3762

By Monday, October 27, 2014

Workshop participants are recommended to attend both sessions.