

Rutgers New Jersey Medical School Emergency Medicine Administration, Quality and Leadership Fellowship

The Department of Emergency Medicine at Rutgers New Jersey Medical School (NJMS) is proud to offer this Fellowship in Healthcare Administration, Quality and Leadership to Emergency Medicine (EM). Rutgers NJMS is affiliated with University Hospital in Newark, New Jersey. University Hospital is a Level 1 Trauma Center with an Emergency Department volume of over 96,000 visits per year.

The fellowship offers Emergency Physicians with an opportunity to expand their knowledge of Emergency Department Operations, Healthcare Quality and Patient Safety. Fellows will develop a deeper understanding of the ED revenue cycle, and healthcare policy, as well as understand how EM fits into the current and ever changing world of healthcare delivery in the United States.

Education Experience and Opportunities

- The program is available as either a one or two-year experience.
- Two-year fellows will have the opportunity to obtain a Masters in Healthcare Administration from the Edward J. Bloustein School of Public Policy of Rutgers University.
- Fellows have the opportunity to attend key national conferences.
- The NJMS Emergency Department manages the New Jersey Poison Center as well as a large hospital based EMS system, this offers fellows exposure to public health and pre-hospital care programs.
- Academic medical center and faculty practice offer a robust exposure to population health, value-based payments, and other reform initiatives.

Duties and Responsibilities

Fellows in this program will:

- Work clinical shifts as an attending in the Emergency Department.
