Program Coordinator: Cynthia Soto, cs1284@njms.rutgers.edu

Student Leader: Brian Leoce, bml114@njms.rutgers.edu

The Vascular Surgery Interest Group at Rutgers Health New Jersey Medical School was created to increase exposure, awareness, and interest in the field of vascular surgery amongst medical students. Through group lectures, journal club, weekly vascular conference, and career guidance, it is our hope and goal to foster an appreciation and understanding for the responsibilities and prestige of a contemporary vascular surgeon.

Vascular Surgery Interest Group

October 2022

The NJMS Vascular Surgery Interest Group is excited to hold several workshops during the 2022-2023 academic year. Medical students will have the opportunity to learn the fundamentals of vascular surgery through informative lectures and simulation sessions hosted by vascular surgery attending physicians at University Hospital. In upcoming sessions, students will practice suturing skills and knot-tying on cadaveric models. These workshops will take place in the anatomy lab in the Medical Science Building and students will simulate basic surgical techniques using supplies provided by industry leaders of vascular surgery. We look forward to meeting and inspiring the next generation of surgeons!"
